Burley's Dot Foods Celebrates One-Year Anniversary

The company commemorated the day with a company picnic

BURLEY, Idaho – Today marks one year for Dot Foods in Burley. Family and friends celebrated the milestone with food and fun at its company picnic on Sept. 12.

Dot invited all Burley employees and their families to Neptune Park in Rupert, Idaho, where they dined on barbeque and played games.

“Our first year as part of the largest food redistributor in the country has been a success,” said Terry Andrew, human resources manager at Dot Foods Inc. “We are proud to be able to mark this milestone with the people who have helped grow our company.”

From Burley, Dot makes deliveries to food distributors in Idaho, Washington, Montana, Utah, Oregon and parts of Colorado. Burley also serves as the West Coast hub for the redistribution of fresh and frozen meat.

During its first year, the Burley distribution center has quickly made its mark on the community. In addition to providing jobs for 110 people, Dot supports a wide variety of charitable organizations, including Relay for Life, the Boy Scouts and POW/MIA. It also has improved the quality of life of its surrounding community by cleaning up trash for Earth Day, sponsoring Rupert's Fourth of July celebration and hosting high school tours and graduation parties.

Dot Foods Inc. carries 83,000 products from 500 food industry manufacturers and is the largest food redistributor in the United States. Dot Foods and Dot Transportation sell and deliver foodservice, convenience, retail, vending, equipment and supplies to leading distributors in all 50 states. Dot Foods operates nine distribution centers in: Modesto, Calif.; Vidalia, Ga.; Burley, Idaho; Mt. Sterling, Ill.; Joliet, Ill.; Cambridge City, Ind.; Williamsport, Md.; Liverpool, N.Y.; and Ardmore, Okla. For information, visit www.dotfoods.com.

Warehouse manager Anthony Soto of Burley and customer delivery specialist Gilbert Chapa of Heyburn enjoyed a game of horseshoes.
