Dot's Driver Appreciation Week Honors Dedicated Drivers

Williamsport distribution center treats drivers to BBQ, service from managers during weeklong celebration

WILLIAMSPORT, Md. – Dot Foods Inc. recognized its dedicated drivers Aug. 22-28 by hosting a fun-filled week of activities in honor of Driver Appreciation Week, a weeklong event held by Dot every year to reward its drivers' commitment to safe, courteous driving.

"Our drivers have worked really hard this year, and honoring them during Driver Appreciation Week is a great way to thank them for all of their time with us," said Mike Stevenson, Dot's Williamsport transportation supervisor.

Dot's warehouse employees and their families kicked off the week Aug. 22 with a picnic at the Redman Club, during which they dined on pig and shrimp and enjoyed live music. Mike Stevenson of St. Thomas, Pa., pitched in to help roast pig for the picnic (right).

Dot's drivers then enjoyed star treatment all throughout the week as the administration washed their personal vehicles, fueled their work trucks and distributed snack bags and breakfast to them. Dot transportation supervisor Alan Moore of Chambersburg, Pa., was more than happy to help fuel one of his driver's trucks (below). On the final day of Driver Appreciation week, Dot drivers feasted on scrumptious ribs and cold drinks and were refreshed and ready to get back on the road.
