Dot Foods Celebrates 15th Anniversary in Williamsport

The company commemorated the day with a company picnic

WILLIAMSPORT, Md. – Dot Foods family and friends celebrated 15 years of business with food and fun at the 15th annual Dot company picnic on Sept. 12.

Dot commemorated the milestone in its company history by providing all of its employees and their families with passes to the Boonsboro Family Recreation Center, where they enjoyed miniature golf, go-cart rides and other amusements.

“We are proud to celebrate this important achievement in Dot’s history with the people who have helped build the company into the success it is today,” said Wendy Young, human resources manager at Dot Foods Inc. “Our position as a leading food redistributor is a testament to the strength and vitality of our company.”

The Williamsport distribution center has been an integral part of not only Dot’s success as the largest food redistributor in the United States, but also the quality of life of the surrounding community. The upstanding values of this family owned company are reflected in both its company accomplishments and community investment.

Garage technician Chad Hoffman of Martinsburg, W.Va., took a spin around the go-cart track.

Since the center first started shipping in 1994, the facility has grown to 310 Maryland employees, composed of drivers, warehouse workers and administrative staff. About 100 trucks of food leave the center each day to make deliveries to food distributors in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina.

In addition to providing jobs, Dot also supports a large variety of charitable organizations, including the United Way, Boys and Girls Club, Habitat for Humanity and the Boy Scouts of America.

Dot Foods Inc. carries 83,000 products from 500 food industry manufacturers and is the largest food redistributor in the United States.
